DETAILS

Visit a lagoon where you can spot seasonal birds dive and play.

Visit and learn the importance of the recollection and trade of the salt for the Maya culture. The salt beds are full of tiny microbes that thrive in salty bodies of water and as the sun gets higher, you can see a film of salt developing on the water's surface. The pigment in these microbes cause the beautiful pink tones of the water and gives flamingos that pink glow they're so famous for.

Visit the most important commercial city for the Maya in the north part of the peninsula, Xcambo. This word translated into Spanish means celestial crocodile or place where exchanges are made. It is considered one of the largest areas on the peninsular coast and some of the largest buildings. See venerable archaeological & pilgrimage sites with the Temple of the Cross & the Temple of Sacrifices.

Let the reality of Mexico excite you! You'll visit the town of Dzemul; a modern-day Mayan village where traditional Mayan palapas sit next to Spanish influenced buildings. Follow your guide through town to the Catholic cathedral in the main square where you can rest in the gardens, watch the town pass, and take in your colorful surroundings.

You will have some time to enjoy the pool, take a short walk down the beach, swim in the ocean, or relax on the beach.

What's Included:

- Lunch Buffet: Chicken fajitas, rice, beans, cheese quesadillas, nachos cheese, tortilla chips, green salad, fresh fruit.
- Soft drinks.

NOTES

- Bring beach Towel.
- Cash or credit cards for additional purchases.
- By taking this tour you will interact with locals and get to know the modern life of the living Mayans.
